Foreword

Putting a yearbook together is something like preparing for an Apollo flight. With immense anxiety, page after page is pasted and typed until finally that final ad is centered and the job is completed. Although the real Apollo is made of nuts, bolts, wires, and metal, we (the yearbook staff) feel our "Apollo" is just as significant. Months of planning, soliciting, and hard work have been devoted—The '70 Quill is launched.

Dedication

To make a teacher: one large helping of understanding, a great big pile of patience and a generous pinch of sincere desire to help the world. Today, I stand before you to say, "You're worth it. Here at R.C.S. we have many people with the above qualifications. It's just that we want to single out just one and honor her with a standing ovation for the years of work she has dedicated to R.C.S. This teacher has shouldered the responsibility of managing innumerable tests and other school activities. She has also secured several senior classes to Washington, which in itself is equivalent to a month's hard labor.

Believe it or not this remarkable lady is still going strong.

To serve only as a token of our sincere appreciation, but incentive to spur her on to many more years of service—we dedicate the '70 Quill to Mrs. Young.

In Memoriam

A TRIBUTE TO A MAN DUANE SCOTT

A well-liked classmate and an all-around student, Duane was elected to go to Boys' State in 1966. This is a great honor for any high school boy to receive.

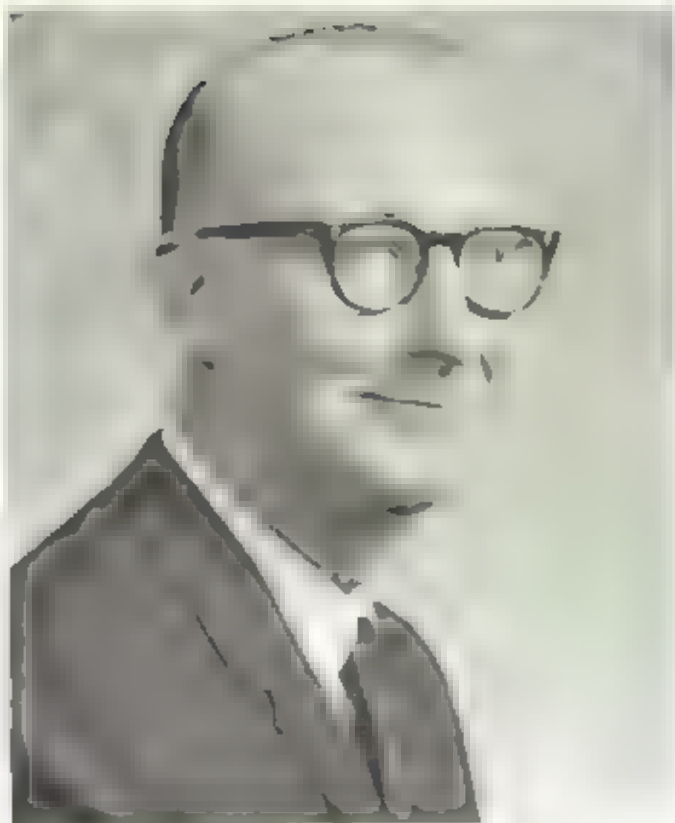

In 1967 he graduated from R.C.S. and entered the U.S. Army in March of 1969. Duane was fatally wounded while serving with the 4th Infantry in Vietnam, September 29, 1969.

A man in every sense of the word, Duane will remain a martyr in the hearts of everyone who knew him.

Dear Class of 1970

We are living in a world that is ever changing. Your destiny in this world will be determined by the effort you put forth in your every endeavor towards success. If you fail it will now be your responsibility to find out why and try to find the proper road to success.

As you read this letter twenty years from the above date I wonder:

if we will still be talking about a generation gap,

if you will look on your children as you think your parents do today, if you will credit yourselves or past generation for the condition the world is in?

I wish each of you the best of everything in your future. Always remember that the school and the staff are here to serve you at anytime you may need help.

Sincerely yours,

Senior Class Prophecy

Can it be? Ten short years have simply flown by and it is time to make our annual trip to round up the members of the class of 1970. And where is there a better place to start than our old hometown, Richburg, now a booming metropolis.

We enjoyed an unforgettable journey here via the Turner Transcontinental Airways flight 201 piloted by none other than ED and co-piloted by CHARLES MASON. Of course, no trip is complete without a lovely stewardess and the vivacious AMY FREEMAN was no exception.

As we stroll along the busy highway we suddenly are aware of a loud roar and look just in time to see possibly the fastest car on wheels (that's during the slower moments) zoom by. Judging by the reaction of the females along the street it can only be SKIP LOUCKS. We later learn he was on his way to a fire started by TOM SCOTT during the course of his ranger duties. Really, Tom! Smokey will be quite upset.

Injured during the blaze was MICHELLE PORCELLO, ace reporter for the Richburg Daily Gossip, trying to get that story. But we are happy to say she is being well cared for by nurse SHARON WARNER who successfully poisoned her fifth patient last week. Before we leave the hospital we discover SUE MITCHELL, a new mommy (no 10) and very happily settled into the role of chief cook and bottle-washer.

Our appetite alarm now chooses this time to ring and we are at once directed to the best spot in town, Smith's Bar and Grill. Naturally SUE is head chef but we are quite surprised to find JERRY LYMAN behind the bar instead of in front of it. Heading the entertainment is that warbling sensation CHERI WILLIAMS backed up by the one and only TERRY NUDECK doing his famous impersonation of "Weird Harold". We must admit it really adds something (?) to the atmosphere.

Just before we leave we bump into STEVE COOK fanned from his recent trip across country dribbling a basketball. Alas! Poor Steve! It seems he passed out just this side of Olean. Better luck next time.

No hometown visit would be complete without a visit to our old alma mater R.C.S. where we are cordially greeted by the principal, TED WHITCHER. He informs us of several classmates who are also members of the present school system and as he proceeds to guide us to them we are quick to notice the ice cream splattered walls, the broken windows, and the town guru, MARVIN MITCHELL, perched atop the trophy case in the hall prophesying the eminent doom. Through the door of the history room we see THEO BULLOCK tentatively trying to teach LEE EVANS, her most attentive student (when he's not asleep) the background of the revolution. Guess things haven't changed much.

Our next stop is at the beauty shop owned and operated by CAROL GILLILAND and GLORIA MITCHELL. We find them busily styling a new coiffure for BONNIE BURDICK who is leaving tomorrow for Africa to gather information for her new book "Marriage and the Cannibal".

Now our journey takes us west where we bump into DAVE HURD and TIM ALLEN, head engineers of a skyscraper project in the middle of Death Valley (they plan ahead). They've had a little trouble, however. Funds are running low and they've already gone through 30 erector sets.

In Las Vegas we discover DEIDRA FITZGERALD and BRENDA FEELY, the new proprietors of the Golden Nugget which they've converted to a pizza parlor. They have employed as waitress's BRENDA CASS and JANET COBB. Things are going quite well—they've only had four stretcher cases this month.

Down on the corner we spot DEBBIE LUNDY selling autographed Tiny Tim ukuleles. During our pleasant chat she informs us of DAN WARNER'S successful Volkswagen business nearby (eat your heart out, Mr. Jordan).

While paying Dan a visit we run into our old friend BOB BENNETT who's in the market for a new car. He had a little accident with a brick wall last week but, fortunately, he's down to two cars a month.

Before we leave we notice Dan's mechanic, JOE COLLINS, working on BARB BURD'S car. It seems she forgot to put it in gear and there was this grove of trees at the bottom of the hill . . .

At the close of the '69 soccer season the R.C.S. team filed a record of 9 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie. Because of this outstanding record our team was able to represent R.C.S. in the play-offs at Letchworth on October 31, 1969, (the first time since 1964) to hand Wyoming a loss of 6 to 0.

From here the Bearcats went to the semi-finals where they met Jasper at Arden. Although they lost 2-0 it was an exciting game.

Special recognition: A legacy Class D League—Rod Yates—most valuable goalie, Skip Loucks—most valuable defensive player.

Coach Karl will certainly miss all the seniors who contributed to the fine season, but looks forward to the 1970 campaign.

The Varsity Basketball team rolled up a very impressive record of 13 wins and 7 losses. This was the first time in 42 years that the team went into the semi-finals of sectional competition.

Led by high-scoring Steve Cook (29.5 avg.) and Ted Whitcher (19.2 avg.) the Bearcats won second place in the league and this year marked the third in a row for the team to qualify for sectional play. Although being one of the smallest teams in the league, the team was only outrebounded twice thanks to the boardwork of Nuedeck, Whitcher and Cook. Defense was a key word again this year and the pressure exerted by Steve Moyer and Steve Cook triggered many a fastbreak. The Bearcats were a very colorful and exciting team to see and much of their success can be contributed to quickness and hustle.

Special awards went to Ted Whitcher as leading rebounder and second team Allegany Class D All Stars and to Steve Cook who for the second year in a row was unanimously selected to the Allegany Class D All Stars 1st Team. In addition, Steve was the leading scorer in the seven county area with an average of 29.5 shooting 40% from the field. Against Belfast he scored 46 points which is a school record. His two year total of 1018 is the highest in the school's history. Steve was also selected to the All Tournament Team from Section 5. He was one of six boys from all of the participating schools in the section. This was the first time a student from Richburg received such an award.

Because of the hard work of the team and Coach Karl, the faculty, student body and spectators will long remember the Bearcats of 1970.
